Useful Advice

- Get your venue organized as soon as you can and ensure that if this is not your own studio, that it will definitely be available for your open dates.
- Decide what image is going to look good in the brochure and on the website. Although new work you will have ready for your opening would be ideal to use as an image, remember you must submit your image by the deadline date of March 8th.
- Think seriously, even at this early stage, about publicizing your event and planning any literature/postcards etc.
- Find out which other artists in your locality will be taking part and what days they would be opening.
